

EXHIBIT B

AP FOR BAR PREPARATION TRAINING SERVICES

PCS# 228000-0003-AP

Required Services

1. Complete bar preparation programs in all 50 states.

Most bar exams test applicants using three different methods: (1) a multiple-choice section (usually referred to as the Multistate Bar Exam (MBE)); (2) a performance test; and (3) essays. Some states test state-specific law, either in the essay portion or in an additional state-specific test.

A complete bar preparation program would prepare the University law students for each method of examination that will appear on the state bar to which the applicant is seeking admission. In addition, a complete bar preparation program will teach the substantive law necessary to pass a state bar exam whether the state bar exam tests multi-state law or state-specific law.

University requires that the complete bar preparation programs will provide instruction through “lectures” and “homework.” “Lectures” explain the substantive law that will be tested on the bar exam and provide guidance about how to approach the different testing methods. “Homework” tests the degree to which University law students have absorbed both the substance of the law and test-taking methods.

The selected vendor must provide complete bar preparation programs in all 50 states. For a vendor to “provide” complete bar preparation programs in all 50 states it must provide its own complete bar preparation programs for the following 14 jurisdictions:

- Arizona
- California
- Florida
- Hawaii
- Montana
- New York
- Nevada
- Oregon
- Texas
- Washington
- The following Uniform Bar Exam UBE jurisdictions, none of which currently have a state-specific component:
 - Alaska
 - Colorado
 - Idaho
 - Utah

In addition, the selected vendor must be able to provide its own complete bar preparation programs or make arrangements for the University law students to take a complete bar preparation program in the remaining 36 jurisdictions.

Finally, the complete bar preparation programs must be offered at least twice per year to prepare University law students for examinations in both July and February.

- a. Please verify that you can provide complete bar preparation programs for the 14 jurisdictions listed above.
- b. For the remaining 36 state jurisdictions,
 - i. Please indicate whether you can provide your own complete bar preparation programs or whether you would need to make arrangements for University law students to take a complete bar preparation program.
 - ii. In any jurisdiction in which you cannot provide your own complete bar preparation program, please explain how you will accommodate the University law students who plan to take the bar in those states.
- c. Please verify that the complete bar preparation programs described in answer to questions 1(a) and (b) is available to prepare University law students for both the July and February bar examinations in all jurisdictions.
- d. Please provide a 2013 sample curricular schedule for both July and February bar preparation programs for the following jurisdictions:
 - i. California
 - ii. Colorado
 - iii. New York
 - iv. Oregon
 - v. Texas
 - vi. Utah
 - vii. Washington
 - viii. Any state in which the curricular schedule is significantly different from those for the states listed in 1(c)i-vii.

2. Classroom Lectures

For the July-bar preparation programs, the selected vendor must provide a classroom setting for lectures for the following jurisdictions:

- i. California
- ii. Colorado
- iii. New York
- iv. Oregon
- v. Texas
- vi. Utah
- vii. Washington

3. Non-expiration

The selected vendor must guarantee that after the University pays for a complete bar exam preparation program for University law students, the student will be permitted to enroll in at least one complete bar preparation program in that student's jurisdiction of choice at any time thereafter.

Please explain how you will maintain records of University law students who are eligible for a complete bar exam program.

4. Opportunities for students who fail the bar

The selected vendor must provide a University law student who fails a bar the opportunity to repeat the vendor's complete bar preparation program at no additional cost until the student has passed a bar.

- a. Please verify that a University law student who fails a state bar be permitted to repeat the complete bar preparation program for that state for no additional cost until the student has passed that state's bar.
- b. Will a University law student who fails a state bar be permitted to take a complete bar preparation program in another state (or states) of his or her choice at no additional cost until that student has passed a state bar?

5. Responding to changes in the bar

To the extent that bar exams change their methods of testing, the substance that will be tested, or the timing of an exam, the selected vendor must commit to provide a program that addresses those changes.

Please provide evidence of your ability to adapt to changes in the bar exam, including the length of time it took to update bar preparation materials in light of new examination requirements.

6. Live support

A University law student struggling to understand a subject matter or an approach to test taking must be able to talk to someone with the requisite experience to answer the question. The selected vendor must provide live support that is able to completely answer student questions during the bar preparation program.

Please explain the type and extent of live support that you provide.

7. Individualized feedback on essays

The selected vendor must provide individualized feedback on University law student practice essays.

- a. Please describe the opportunities you provide for individualized feedback on essays.

- e. With respect to the reports in 10(d), please
 - i. Provide a list of any other variables that can be included in such a report.
 - ii. Indicate who can generate such a report, and
 - iii. Provide an example of each such report.
- f. To the extent a comprehensive bar program will be outsourced for a given jurisdiction, please explain the extent to which University will receive comparable information as that described in 10(d) and 10(e).

10. At-risk students

The selected vendor must be able to identify University law students at risk of failing the bar.

- a. Please explain how you would identify an at-risk student.

- b. If a report would be generated, please provide an example of that report.
- c. If you customarily provide intervention to support at-risk students, please describe that intervention.

Preferred Services

11. Student engagement

Bar preparation programs are most effective when students are motivated to study consistently, participate actively in the program, and complete a substantial portion of the program. University prefers a vendor that can provide evidence of successful strategies that motivate University law students to engage with its bar preparation program. Such strategies or programs could include initiatives during the school year or before the formal commencement of the February or July bar preparation program.

- a. Please describe the strategies and/or programs you employ, as well as any additional strategies or programs you propose to employ, to motivate students to study and engage with your bar preparation programs.
